

THE EXPANDING UNIVERSE

“Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever You had formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, You are God” (Psalm 90:2).

Contemporary astronomers have discovered that the universe is expanding. The stars are moving farther apart. Allan Sandage compiled information on 42 galaxies, ranging as far as six billion light years from us. He has concluded that the universe was expanding more rapidly in the past than it is today. This tends to support the idea that the universe exploded into being. What less would you expect when God “spoke” the universe into being? This further evidence that the cosmos had a beginning. Both mathematically and logically, this would reach a point where there is no space, no time, and no matter. Precisely this is where Genesis began. So here’s where we are. There was nothing. Then suddenly there was something out of nothing. Can you believe it? This is a scientific confirmation in the belief in Creation “ex nihilo.” Yet those who want to avoid God, now claim the universe came into existence from nothing by nothing. How interesting! This is contrary to the very nature of science which is supposed to look for an adequate cause for events. Am I getting this? Now science has discovered what the Bible has been saying from the beginning, but the Bible is still wrong! A person’s faith will only lead him to where he is willing to go.
